

The Ivy Restaurant

project The Ivy Restaurant location London
client Jeremy King and Chris Corbin dates 1990
cost £1million

The commission to design the Ivy Restaurant came directly out of M.J.Long's work on artists' studios.

The project involved the complete refurbishment of an old established restaurant. The interiors were rebuilt with specially commissioned works of art by several major contemporary artists integrated into the design. New environmental services and a new kitchen were also provided.
